Please note the visa procedures and requirements may change at any time. Your travel consultant will inform you if any changes are applicable prior to your departure.

For the Maldives, you will be issued a free 30-day tourist visa on arrival.

INSURANCE:

We strongly recommend that you take out a policy as soon as you pay your deposit. Wendy Wu Tours cannot in any way be made liable for any additional cost incurred by the customer on any tour due to the customer not having adequate travel insurance.

We also encourage all customers to take a copy of their travel insurance documents (especially relevant international contact numbers) with them while on tour. We advise that you check the inclusions and procedures for lodging claims prior to your departure. These documents should be stored separately from the original.

EATING IN SRI LANKA & MALDIVES:

Sri Lankan cuisine has cultivated its own distinct flavour over the thanks to years of colonisation, influence from other nations and a history of spice trading. Meals as outlined in the itinerary (excluding drinks) are included in our tour. Please be aware that dishes selected for your meals reflect the cooking styles and signature dishes of the local area you are in.

Dishes served in restaurants on our tours are varied. Some will be vegetable-based and some meat-based. Our restaurants are well aware of the western palate – there are plenty of non-spiced options. Dishes will usually be served either as a set menu with a few choices, or in a buffet style to allow you to sample many different options.

Eating in the Maldives is a delightful experience. The cuisine here offers a rich blend of flavours influenced by local traditions and international cuisines. Dishes in the Maldives are heavily influenced by seafood, with an abundance of fresh fish like tuna, grouper, snapper, and barracuda prepared in various mouth-watering ways, including grilling, currying, or with coconut-based sauces. Coconut plays a significant role in Maldivian cooking, adding richness and flavour to many dishes, whether it's in the form of creamy coconut milk or grated coconut. Spices are also a key component, with local blends that include cumin, cardamom, chili, and cinnamon, adding aromatic complexity to the cuisine.

Traditional dishes like Rihaakuru, a fish paste enjoyed with rice or flatbread, and Mas Huni, a breakfast dish made with shredded tuna, coconut, and onions, offer authentic flavours to savour. Alongside the local delicacies, visitors can indulge in a diverse range of international cuisines offered in resorts and tourist areas, making the dining experience in the Maldives a true gastronomic adventure. Whether enjoying a beachfront dinner, sipping on refreshing fruit juices or cocktails made from tropical fruits, or experiencing a unique dining setting like an underwater restaurant, eating in the Maldives is a feast for both the senses and the soul.

We recommend that when dining in Sri Lanka and the Maldives, you stay open-minded and try to be adventurous.

DEVELOPMENT IN SRI LANKA & MALDIVES:

Although Sri Lanka is developing quickly, it still lacks the international standards of civil infrastructure and tourist facilities. Concepts of personal responsibility are also different to those in New Zealand. Consequently, tourist and public facilities may not uphold the same safety standards as in New Zealand; for example, you may see a hole in the road without a warning sign or safety barricade. All of our suppliers meet local safety standards at a minimum. We want you to have an enjoyable holiday, so we ask that you take extra care, use your common sense, refer to notices and follow advice from your guide.

The Maldives has been undergoing various development efforts across different sectors to boost its economy, infrastructure, and social well-being. It's essential to remember that the information provided may not cover more recent developments. Also important to note is that the Maldives is a small island nation facing unique challenges, including vulnerability to climate change and environmental issues. The government and various international organisations continuously work to balance development with sustainability to safeguard the country's natural beauty and resources for future generations.

ACCOMMODATION:

Your accommodation has been selected for convenience of location, comfort or character. It can range from a business hotel in one city to a family-run guesthouse in a smaller town or a heritage-type hotel. Please note that there is no international classification system for hotels and differences in facilities and quality exist between New Zealand and Sri Lanka. Rest assured that our staff and partners regularly inspect all hotels used by Wendy Wu Tours to ensure that standards are met. All hotels have private western bathroom facilities, air conditioning, TV and a telephone. Plumbing and electricity supplies can be erratic, and hotel rooms' power is often turned off while guests are out. If you experience any difficulty, please speak to your National Escort or Local Guide.

4* SUN SIYAM OLUVELI IN MALDIVES:

Sun Siyam Olhuveli is a large, contemporary beach and spa resort set across three interconnected islands in South Malé Atoll and is located approximately 45–50 minutes by speedboat from Malé. The resort combines expansive white-sand beaches, turquoise lagoons, and lush tropical vegetation, with a layout that includes dedicated adults-only areas alongside family-friendly zones.

Due to its position within the South Malé Atoll, the resort enjoys a prime lagoon setting with direct access to coral reefs and marine life. The surrounding waters are rich in biodiversity, with opportunities to spot manta rays, dolphins, reef fish, and even whale sharks on excursions.

The resort features a wide range of accommodation options, from beachfront villas to overwater suites, many with private pools and direct lagoon access. Dining is also a major highlight, with a wide selection of restaurants and bars offering international and regional cuisine. Across the resort there are multiple dining venues, ranging from casual beachside eateries to fine-dining experiences.

Please note, these services are available at an additional cost and can be arranged with reception upon check-in.

SOUVENIRS:

We want to be able to give you an opportunity to buy souvenirs so we include some stops at museums or exhibitions that demonstrates a craft or product unique to that region with pieces available to buy. We understand that souvenir hunting is not for everyone so we aim to take you to places that hold local interest. We trust you will enjoy these opportunities to learn about local arts and crafts and understand their historical and cultural importance.

TIPPING POLICY:

Tipping while on holiday is common in most parts of the world, with Sri Lanka & Maldives being no exception. However, it is not always clear who it is appropriate to tip and how much. Furthermore, travellers may not have the right amounts of cash available at the right time. To avoid any inconvenience Wendy Wu Tours operates a tipping policy where a stated amount is given to your national escort at the beginning of your tour and tips are disbursed amongst your main service providers (for example local guides and drivers) throughout your tour. The amount is designed to be at a reasonable level for travellers while being fair to the local people and includes a gratuity for the national escort. Any other tipping, such as tips for bathroom attendants or hotel porters that are taking luggage to your room, is at your discretion based on satisfaction of services received, as are gratuities for additional requested special services.

Please note, the above-mentioned tipping policy applies to the guided touring section of the itinerary (Day 1-8). Tipping for the remainder of your trip is discretionary (Day 9-13).

We generally find that most customers appreciate the convenience of our tipping policy but we do recognize that it may not suit everyone. However, as this is a group tour we ask that everyone follows the same protocol to be fair to other group members and to ensure smooth operation of your tour.

MALDIVES:

Tipping in the Maldives is generally not expected or required, as most resorts and hotels include a service charge in their bills. However, tipping is still appreciated as a gesture of gratitude for excellent service. If you choose to tip, here are some guidelines:

Resorts and Hotels: As mentioned, many resorts and hotels in the Maldives include a service charge in their bills. This service charge is often distributed among the staff. If you feel that the service provided was exceptional and you want to show appreciation, you can give a small cash tip directly to the staff who served you. While there are no set rules, a tip of around US$5 to US$10 per day per person is considered generous.

Tour Guides and Boat Crew: If you take excursions or go on guided tours, it is customary to tip the tour guides and boat crew if you are happy with their services. A tip of around US$5 to US$10 per person for guides and US$1 to US$2 per person for boat crew members is a typical amount.

Spa and Wellness Services: For spa treatments or wellness services, a tip of around 10% of the service cost is appreciated by the therapists.

Diving and Water Sports: If you participate in diving or water sports activities, consider tipping the instructors or guides. A tip of around US$5 to US$10 per person is a common practice.

Airport and Porters: At the airports, or if porters assist you with your luggage, it is customary to give a small tip of around US$1 to US$2 per bag.

Remember that tipping in the Maldives is entirely discretionary, and there is no obligation to do so. The staff at resorts and hotels are generally well compensated, so tipping is seen more as a kind gesture rather than a necessity. If you choose to tip, use US dollars or the local currency (Maldivian rufiyaa) for tipping, as other foreign currencies may not be easily exchanged.

TRANSPORT:

Vehicles: Vehicles with air conditioning are used for city sightseeing, short excursions to the countryside and longer transfers where necessary. Road conditions in Sri Lanka have improved over recent years, but traffic and/or weather conditions may extend driving times. Road construction work usually covers an enormous section of the road - not just one or two kilometres as you may be used to. For this reason, the timings listed in the sections above are approximations only.

Speedboats: Speedboat transfers in the Maldives are a popular and convenient way to travel between the airport and various resort islands. As the Maldives is an archipelago consisting of over 1,000 coral islands, speedboats offer a quick and efficient mode of transportation, especially for resorts located relatively close to the airport or on nearby islands.

Speedboat schedules are typically coordinated with flight arrivals and departures. The resort will arrange the transfer according to your flight details; however, speedboat transfers can be shared with other guests depending on the resort's location and the number of guests arriving or departing.

Operators in the Maldives prioritise safety. Speedboats are equipped with life jackets, and all appropriate safety measures are taken.

APPROPRIATE DRESS:

When visiting temples or mosques, both men and women should dress in conservative, non-revealing clothing. Full-length trousers with a shirt or t-shirt for men; and trousers or skirts well below the knee with a top that covers the shoulders and upper arms for women. Women might also consider carrying a 'modesty shawl' in their daypack – this could be a sarong or light scarf – which they can wear over their shoulders and heads to feel more comfortable while sightseeing at mosques. When visiting Jain temples, you must not wear or take in any leather items such as belts, watches, camera straps, purses and shoes.

Religious sites and homes throughout Sri Lanka require all visitors to remove their shoes to enter. Even if you then need to walk outdoors, over hot or rough ground, you will not be allowed to wear shoes. You will often find shoe storage rooms near a site's entrance where it is customary to leave your shoes near the threshold. Occasionally there are 'shoe minders' who will offer to keep your shoes safe for a 'tip' – this is not compulsory; you can choose to tip for this service or not. If you do not want to remove your shoes, you will have to remain outside.

We recommend shoes that easily slip on and off and carry a pair of thick, old socks in your daypack, which you can wear to protect your feet from any rough or hot surfaces.

MALDIVES: In the Maldives, dressing is generally relaxed, casual and typical of the tropical beach resort environment. On resort islands and beaches, casual beachwear (i.e. swimwear, sarongs, shorts, t-shirts, tank tops, sundresses, and flip-flops) is common attire for daytime activities. Many resort restaurants and bars also have a laid-back dress code, allowing guests to wear casual resort wear during meal times. However, some upscale restaurants may require a more formal dress code in the evenings, such as smart-casual clothing or resort-chic outfits. When visiting local inhabited islands or religious sites, it is essential to be mindful of cultural and religious sensitivities. In these settings, dressing more modestly is respectful, with women covering their shoulders and wearing knee length or longer skirts or dresses and men avoiding sleeveless tops. Regardless of the setting, it's important to prioritise sun protection by wearing sunscreen, a hat, and sunglasses while enjoying the Maldives' beautiful outdoor activities and breathtaking sun-drenched landscapes.

VACCINATIONS AND YOUR HEALTH:

We recommend that you contact either your doctor or Health centre for advice on vaccinations and travel health. Safetravel has a comprehensive website that you may also find useful www.safetravel.govt.nz

BEFORE YOU LEAVE:

We strongly recommend registering your travel plans with www.safetravel.govt.nz as in the event of an emergency, New Zealand Consular assistance will be more readily available.

Up until the day you travel, it is vital you keep up to date and familiarised with the entry requirements as these can change at short notice. You are personally responsible for completing any entry forms, conducting any covid tests (if necessary), etc and adhering to countries' specific entry requirements.

You can also access the New Zealand Government's travel advisory service for up-to-date information about your destination on the same website.

AFTER YOUR BOOKING:

Once you have booked with Wendy Wu Tours, you will receive a confirmation invoice including a visa application form (if applicable), and a help sheet. Your final documentation pack will be sent to you approximately 2-3 weeks prior to departure.
